Issue:	Consider t Program	the Effectiveness and Efficiency of the Recreation Fee Waiver
Lead De <sub>l</sub>	partment:	Parks and Recreation
General	Plan Eleme	ent or Sub-Element: Recreation Sub-Element

1. What are the key elements of the issue? What precipitated it?

On April 5, 2005, City Council reviewed RTC 05-090 that considered options to address a shortfall in the Recreation Fee Waiver Program budget in FY2004/2005. Council asked if the criteria for the program could be modified, so that fee waivers could be directed to specific customer groups. Staff indicated that a Study Issue was being developed to evaluate the effectiveness of the Recreation Fee Waiver Program and that these criteria could also be considered. The key elements of this study will include the following:

- Consider limiting the Recreation Fee Waiver Program to specific segments of the Sunnyvale population, rather than the population at large. For example, the Program could be limited to youth, developmentally disabled persons, seniors and/or other groups or combinations of groups.
- Review existing family income criteria used to establish eligibility for the Recreation Fee Waiver Program and consider additional eligibility criteria that may be more efficiently managed.
- Review the annual maximum fee waiver amount given to eligible Sunnyvale residents discuss whether or not the amount should be adjusted.
- Consider whether or not the annual amount should be adjusted yearly for inflation or to address years of positive or negative economy of Sunnyvale.
- Consider Sunnyvale residency requirements and appropriate documents used to ensure that only residents are served by the Recreation Fee Waiver Program.
- Consider types of programs and activities eligible for fee waivers.

9. Staff Recommendation for this calendar year:

"For" Study X Explain:

For many years the City's Recreation Fee Waiver Program has been an important safety net for low income families. Currently the majority of fee waivers are issued to allow Sunnyvale children and teens the opportunity to participate in a wide variety of recreation, enrichment, sports and arts classes and activities. However, many adults and seniors also receive waivers.

Use of the Recreation Fee Waiver Program fluctuates widely from year to year and does not appear to follow any particular trend. Given the City's current fiscal situation and status of the Community Recreation Fund, there is a possibility that the City may not have the resources available to continue the Recreation Fee Waiver Program at its current level. It appears to be an appropriate time to review the existing program and examine related criteria and expenditures so that appropriate future levels of support may be provided for the community.

"Against" Study ___ Explain. If staff suggests that this study should not be considered again in the future or deferred at this time, please include this in your explanation:

Note: If staff's recommendation is "for study" or "against study", the Director should note the relative importance of this Study to other major projects that the department is currently working on or that are soon to begin, and the impact on existing services/priorities.
